Mr. Neely,

I have run this one down, and the legal and engineering staffs (both of whom are implicated in resolving the objections) are actively considering that contested application right now and optimistically hope for a resolution in the first quarter of 2018.

Mike -

Is there any movement on this silent station application?

thanks,

John Neely

John,

We have discussed it among Audio Division staff, and we expect that we will get to the July 10 modification application in two months or so.
