

Overlap of KWCR proposed interfering contour occurs entirely over the Great Salt Lake.

Areas not shown on the map as over open water are part of the "Farmington Bay Waterfowl Management Area." The area was all open water until dikes were built in 1935. Areas shown as mud flats vary from being marshes, mud flats, or open water, depending on the year and the runoff. Dwellings will never be allowed in the area. Managed by the Utah Division of Wildlife Resources.

To the extent that the overlap occurs over land recovered by dikes, a waiver is requested.
