

ASRN Exemption

The structure on which the antenna is proposed to be mounted does not meet the FCC or FAA minimum requirements for registration, marking or lighting so the applicant is exempt from having a registration number. Most notably, it does not exceed the minimum height required for filing.