

The structure on which the antenna is mounted does not meet the FCC or FAA minimum requirements for registration, marking or lighting. (47 CFR Part 17; 17.21). Most notably, the structure does not exceed the required height for filing. For this reason, the applicant is exempt from having a registration number.