The Children's Act and the FCC's rules impose the following:

The age group to which the commercial limits and the core programming requirements differ. While the core programming standard refers to any programming specifically designed to serve the educational and informational needs of children ages 16 and under, the commercial limitations only apply to programs originally produced and broadcast primarily for an audience of children ages 12 and under, including programming aired either on free or pay digital streams.

After due review of internal station records and documentation provided to us by program suppliers, KRBK HD TV hereby certifies:

 X that we complied with the FCC's commercial limits with respect to all children's programs broadcast during this quarter that are subject to these requirements.

 that we did not fully comply with the FCC's commercial limits with respect to all children's programs broadcast during this quarter that are subject to these requirements, as explained in Attachment A.
