

Station WMTV is moving the main transmitter and has been operating at approximately 25% power with a lower-power backup transmitter since April 25, 2016. The station anticipates resuming operations at full power around May 16, 2016.