License Certifications
Main Studio Location

Georgia Public Telecommunications Commission ("GPB") has historically operated its noncommercial educational television stations, including WNGH-TV, pursuant to main studio waivers approved by the FCC to allow operation from its statewide network headquarters and studio location in Atlanta, Georgia. In connection with this application for a license to cover coordinate corrections for WNGH-TV, there is no change with respect to the station's satellite operation or studio location.