

Attachment C

One other issue may need to be addressed before the post-auction facility can be fully constructed. Under the terms of the District's tower site lease, if the site survey determines that the new construction will exceed the boundaries of the leased premises, the District must obtain the consent of the lessor.