

COMPREHENSIVE SUMMARY
KWEX-DT, San Antonio Texas
Facility ID No. 35881

On September 20, 2017 KWEX License Partnership LP (“Univision”), the licensee of KWEX-DT, San Antonio, Texas (Facility ID No. 35881) (“KWEX” or “the Station”) was granted a limited waiver<sup>1</sup> which permitted the filing of concurrent applications for two alternative replacement channels for KWEX in the first priority window.<sup>2</sup> Univision hereby requests that the Commission dismiss the Channel 19 request (LMS File No. 0000029926).

For the past several weeks, and in consultation with FCC staff, Univision diligently researched potential alternatives to Channel 14. The Commission’s interference analysis software provided the basis for the initial channel reassignments in the repack and designated KWEX for transition from its current Channel 41 to Channel 14.<sup>3</sup> This channel assignment is not viable for a full power station in the San Antonio DMA, however, because more than 300 land mobile licensees operate on adjacent frequencies, some of which are located in close proximity to the Station’s transmitter site. The Commission has long recognized that Channel 14 may present unique challenges to television station channel assignments in certain markets.<sup>4</sup> Accordingly, on June 28, 2017, the FCC granted the Station’s request for an “unable-to-construct” waiver of the initial construction permit deadline (LMS file No. 0000024880).

We have identified that, in order to preserve service to the community, Channel 24 presents the best option for KWEX. Reassignment to Channel 24 necessitates several additional reconfigurations in the market and significant capital outlay by Univision, including the acquisition of a Class A station. As discussed below, in order to ensure continued KWEX service, several concurrent applications are inextricably linked.<sup>5</sup> As such, the Commission must consider these applications covered under the priority one window filing status, and thus, protected against subsequently-filed applications. The granting of these applications is consistent statutory directive that the Commission make “all reasonable efforts” to maintain current service of post-Incentive Auction broadcasters.<sup>6</sup>

KWEX

Univision is filing an amendment to the Channel 24 application (LMS File Nos. 0000029934). Included in the amendment is a letter detailing an agreement with Three Angels Broadcasting Network, Inc. (“TABN”), licensee of low power television station K27LF-D (Facility ID No. 24570 ). Univision has entered into an agreement with TABN and will relocate KWEX to Univision’s KROM(FM) tower (ASR 1206963), on which K27LF-D is located. Univision will provide all necessary antenna equipment and will prepare the application for K27LF-D to modify its facility. TABN and Univision have also entered into an interference agreement.

KWEX is also in discussions with Nexstar, licensee of full-power digital television broadcast station KNVA(TV) (Facility ID No. 144), licensed to Austin, TX and will amend the Channel 24 application to include an interference agreement, once finalized.

Please see attached letter and Engineering Statement.

KXLK-CD

Univision has entered into a purchase agreement with a Class A station in Austin, Texas that was assigned Channel 24 in the repack - KXLK-CD (Facility ID No. 48836). Univision is filing an assignment application for KXLK-CD. Radio Spectrum Partners, LP, licensee of KXLK-CD is filing an application to be reassigned to Channel 14.<sup>7</sup>

KNIC-CD

Sister station KNIC-CD, San Antonio, Texas (Facility ID No. 48837), currently reassigned Channel 24, must be reassigned another channel. Univision hereby consents to such reassignment and is filing an application to reassign KNIC-CD to Channel 27.
