

INTERIM ANTENNA EXHIBIT

Digital Television Station KSAX(TV), Alexandria, Minnesota (the “Station”), does not have a licensed or permitted auxiliary (backup) antenna. However, as set forth in the Station’s FCC Form 399, the Station intends to construct and to use an interim antenna in order to facilitate its transition and reduce disruption to its over-the-air audience. The Station is continuing to plan that interim facility, and expects to have a full plan for that facility in the near future.
