

This amendment corrects a typographical error in the tabulation of the directional pattern by correcting the relative field on the 280 degree radial from 0.87 to 0.987. It makes no other changes since all of the exhibits originally submitted with this application were based on the correct value.