

Environmental Effect

Proposed site is on a remote mountain top and has been operational for approx.

40 years utilizing TV translators at transmitter power levels of 30 watts or less.

Therefore, an environmental study is not required. With respect to FCC guidelines,

RF exposure is not a threat to people accessing this site.