

KUEN, a member of DTV Utah LC, will be transitioning to a new antenna and transmitter this summer in order to comply with a new channel assignments issued to other members of DTV Utah by the FCC in Phase One the Repack. While KUEN is not changing channels during this Repack, a new antenna is required to facilitate the new Repack assignments of our partner stations operating on the same antenna. In order to make this change, the construction phase of this move will require KUEN to cease operation on the current antenna while the new one is installed.

To continue operation during this time, KUEN will need to operate on a standby antenna on its current channel at reduced power for several months while the new antenna and transmission facilities are constructed. It is estimated that this condition will remain until September 10th, 2018.
