Parties to this application may have had other FCC applications dismissed or denied in the past as a result of tenderability defects, technical deficiencies or other non-character related matters. Neither the applicant nor any party to this application has had any FCC station authorization, license or construction permit revoked or had any application dismissed or denied on character grounds.