Dear Larry,

Thank you for letting me know that WGGB-TV is going to request permission to move your transition up from the assigned Transition Phase 8 to Transition Phase 4. As you know, this is a change that will benefit us here at Coast to Coast Tower Service and will allow us to better align our repack tower projects in this region to make them more efficient and geographically logical. You have my permission to submit this letter to the FCC.

As we have discussed previously, Coast to Coast strongly supports your request to move your transition up because it will mean that Coast to Coast will be able to complete the repack work for WGGB-TV in a time frame that is likely to reduce travel and time between jobs for one of my crews. In fact, as I have mentioned to you before, Coast to Coast already has other jobs scheduled for the same time frame (the Phase 4 time frame) in the same region as WGGB-TV, which means that it will be more efficient for us to assign a crew to finish WGGB's repack job for Phase 4. Of course, uncontrollable circumstances like weather may cause things to change in terms of how I assign tower crews to various jobs, but as of right now, the proposed change of WGGB-TV from Phase 8 to Phase 4 would benefit Coast to Coast's scheduling and crew assignment.

As I have already mentioned to you, if we are authorized to complete your transition early as you are requesting, it will not negatively impact any other work or repack client that we have already lined up. In reality, it will help ease some of the strain that exists for us in terms of geographical efficiencies and the various locations of Coast to Coast projects.

If you have any questions, please let me know. We look forward to working on your project, and I hope the FCC grants your request to transition early.

Thanks,

M. Todd Jackson, President
