

Attachment B

One other issue may need to be addressed before the post-auction facility can be fully constructed. Under the terms of the District's tower site lease, if a site survey determines that the new construction will exceed the boundaries of the leased premises, the District must obtain the consent of the lessor.