

Attributable Interest Irrelevant

Because this application is for channel sharing only, and the applicant is the sharer station and proposes no changes to WJLP's technical operations, ownership, or control, the persons holding attributable interests in the applicant are irrelevant to consideration of this application, as are the other attributable interests held by principals of the applicant.