Statement re CP Condition

The WKRQ auxiliary antenna construction permit (0000082499) bears a condition which requires the performance and submission of spurious emissions measurements in connection with this license application.

This condition was placed on the construction permit because the antenna is shared with an auxiliary facility for WUBE-FM (FCC construction permit file number 0000082498) under an assumption that the two auxiliary facilities would operate via a combiner. That is not the case. Instead, although the antenna system is designed to accommodate both frequencies, there is no combiner and so only one station will operate through this antenna system at any given time. Consequently there is no combiner system on which to perform the spurious emissions measurements and the condition on the CP is not applicable.
