

Request for Waiver of Minor Modification Filing Freeze

To the extent necessary to process and approve the instant application, Rhode Island PBS Foundation (“RIPBS”), licensee of WSBE-TV, Providence, Rhode Island (Fac. ID No. 56092) (“Station”) hereby requests a waiver of the Media Bureau’s 2013 freeze on the filing and processing of minor modification applications. See Media Bureau Announces Limitations on the Filing and Processing of Full Power and Class A Television Station Modification Applications, Effective Immediately, and Reminds Stations of Spectrum Act Preservation Mandate, Public Notice, 28 FCC Rcd. 4364 (MB 2013) (“April 2013 Freeze Public Notice”).¹

In the April 2013 Freeze Public Notice, the Media Bureau determined that it was necessary to freeze modification applications to “facilitate analysis of repacking methodologies and to assure that the objective of the broadcast television incentive auction are not frustrated.” April 2013 Freeze Public Notice at 1. At the same time, however, the Bureau indicated that it would consider, on a case-by-case basis, requests for waivers of the processing freeze when a modification is necessary or otherwise in the public interest “to maintain quality service to the public.” Id. at 2. This is exactly that situation.

Since transitioning from UHF channel 21 to Low-VHF Channel 2, many the Station’s viewers have reported a loss of the ability to view the Station over-the-air. Attached hereto is a list of complaints RIPBS has received about reception issues since transitioning to channel 2. A waiver of the freeze on processing minor modification applications is necessary to allow the Station to maintain quality service to the public from its new channel.

The FCC long has recognized the problems with DTV broadcast operations in the Low-VHF part of the RF spectrum. As the Commission has stated, “VHF channels have certain characteristics that have posed challenges for their use in providing digital television service.” Matter of Innovation in the Broadcast Television Bands: Allocations, Channel Sharing and Improvements to VHF, Notice of Proposed Rulemaking, 25 FCC Rcd. 16498 ¶ 42 (2010). In further explanation, the Commission said, “the propagation characteristics of these channels allow undesired signals and noise to be receivable at relatively farther distances, nearby electrical devices tends to emit noise in this band that can cause interference, and reception of VHF signals requires physically larger antennas ... relative to UHF channels.” Id.

In recognition of the challenges facing VHF stations (and to encourage stations to consider the UHF-to-VHF bid option), the FCC, in its Incentive Auction Report and Order, explained that it would “afford favorable consideration to post-incentive auction requests for waivers of the VHF power and height limits for winning UHF-to-VHF bidders that may be necessary to resolve coverage problems on their new channels.” Expanding the Economic and Innovation Opportunities of Spectrum Through Incentive Auctions, Report and Order, 29 FCC Rcd. 6567 ¶ 371 (2014), aff’d, Nat’l Ass’n of Broadcasters v. FCC, 789 F.3d 165 (D.C. Cir. 2015). As the Commission recognized, this is consistent with the Media Bureau’s approval of similar waivers following the DTV transition. Id. (citing Letter from Barbara A. Kreisman, Chief, Video Division, Media Bureau, to ABC, Inc. and Freedom Broadcasting of New York Licensee, LLC

¹ Although the Media Bureau lifted the freeze for stations that have not yet completed the transition to their post-auction channels, the freeze still applies for stations that have discovered reception problems as a result of their transition.

(dated Mar. 16, 2011) (http://licensing.fcc.gov/cgi-bin/prod/cdbs/forms/prod/getimportletter_exh.cgi?import_letter_id=24963). Following through on this commitment, the Commission authorized a group of four stations on Channels 2, 3, and 4 in Delaware, New Jersey, and Virginia to operate well-above the 10 kW power limit applied by the rules to Low-VHF stations in Zone I. See LMS File No. 0000035792.

Because allowing the Station to operate at increased power will help alleviate the known problems associated with reception of a low-VHF signal, the Commission should waive the freeze in this instance and grant the instant application.
