

WQTT, 1270 kHz, Marysville, Ohio, has been licensed and in operation with its current facilities since 1989, which is before the previous license renewal. There have been no changes to the transmission facility since that time. WDLR is operating in accordance with the station license. The tower base fences are intact. Based on the information previously submitted WDLR remains in compliance with the RF exposure limits.

A handwritten signature in blue ink, appearing to read "William Weeks", is positioned above the printed name.
