Digital Television Station WNYA(TV), Pittsfield, Massachusetts (the “Station”), successfully terminated over-the-air operations on its pre-auction channel (Channel 13) on July 3, 2020, per its Phase 10 deadline. However, in light of its required coordination with a same-site linked station and other circumstances, the Station has not been able to construct its permitted facility for its post-repack channel operations (Channel 7) yet. Instead, it constructed an interim antenna pursuant to special temporary authority, as granted last month, and has duly commenced its temporary broadcast operation on Channel 7, also as of July 3, 2020.
