K29HW-D is being displaced by the move of station KHPX, Georgetown, TX, to Channel 29 as a result of the broadcast incentive auction. The University has a construction permit to move its LPTV station to Channel 32 but is not able to immediately make that move. By reducing the power of K29HW-D from its present 3.4 kw to 500 watts, the University believes that station will not cause any interference to the reception of KHPX. The University has been in contact with the licensee of KHPX – Nexstar Broadcasting Company – regarding this proposal. If there is any objectionable interference, the University will further reduce the power of K29HW-D or take the station off the air if necessary until its move to Channel 32 can be completed.
