

This amendment reverts the address of the applicant and legal representative back to the organization's mailing address, rather than the studio address.