

EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVES STATEMENT

The proposed assignee brings together long-time volunteer programmers who produced content for the station during the period from sign-on to the present, under the tutelage of the assignor.

This group of programmers reaffirms its commitment to the current licensee's Educational Statement, as reviewed and approved by the FCC in File No. BNPL - 20131114AUC ("Original Application") and states its own commitment, in the exact same words, to the educational objectives of the Original Application:

We provide thoughtful dialogue, generate intelligent debate, and disseminate key information about the issues of our times. We will explore the social, spiritual and ethical issues across society -- with a view toward extending democratic principles and promoting social and economic justice -- as together we seek to be a force for good in the world." Our station intends to provide thoughtful dialogue, generate intelligent debate, and disseminate key information about the issues of our times. We will explore the social, spiritual and ethical issues across society – with a view toward extending democratic principles and promotion social and economic justice – as together we seek to be a force for good in the world.

Insofar as the proposed assignee has been formed by volunteers charged with programming responsibilities for the current licensee, the station plans to follow the programming principles and general scheduling thrusts already in place.
