Established Local Applicant Documentation

The Nebraska Educational Telecommunications Commission (“NETC”) is a state governmental entity in the State of Nebraska. It was established by an act of the state legislature and is codified in Chapter 79 of the Nebraska Revised Statute. NEB. REV. STAT. § 79-1316. See attached. As a state governmental entity, NETC is considered a local entity for purposes of the FCC noncommercial point system determination “throughout the area within which their authority extends.” Reexamination of the Comparative Standards for Noncommercial Educational Applicants, Report and Order, 20 CR 301, 65 FR 36375, 15 FCC Rcd 7386, (April 21, 2000) at Paragraph 54.¹ Accordingly, as a state governmental entity, NETC qualifies as a local entity applicant throughout the state of Nebraska, including within the proposed service area. NETC has been in existence since 1963 (its history as licensee of numerous broadcast stations since at least 1984 is a matter of record with the Commission), and is therefore an “established” local entity pursuant to Section 73.7003(b)(1) of the FCC’s Rules, which requires continuous local applicant qualification for no fewer than two years. See also attached, excerpt from NETC’s “Governance” website, available at <https://nebraskapublicmedia.org/en/about/governance/nebraska-educational-telecommunications-commission/>.

The commission shall provide to newspapers, radio stations, and other news media program schedules informing the public of programs approved by the commission; and

Nebraska Educational Telecommunications Commission

The Nebraska Educational Telecommunications Commission was created by the Educational Television Act, adopted by the 1963 Legislature. In 1984, the Legislature changed the commission's name and broadened its scope to include all educational telecommunications. The commission promotes and provides noncommercial educational telecommunications throughout Nebraska via broadcast, satellite, fiber optic, computer and other technologies.

The Nebraska Educational Telecommunications Commission holds the license for the nine transmitters and five translators that comprise the radio network. It also holds the license for eight of the nine television transmitters and for the 15 translators that comprise the television network. The ninth transmitter, KUON-TV, is licensed to the University of Nebraska Board of Regents. Through a long-standing agreement with the University of Nebraska-Lincoln and the Board of Regents, KUON-TV operates as the flagship station for Nebraska Public Media.

The Nebraska Educational Telecommunications Commission is comprised of 11 members. Nine are appointed by the governor and are subject to legislative approval. The Nebraska commissioner of education, or his or her designee, and the president of the University of Nebraska, or his or her designee, are standing members. Appointed members include: a Nebraska state college representative, a Nebraska community college representative, a Nebraska private educational institution representative, and two members of the public from each of the state's three congressional districts, none of whom may be associated with any of the institutions listed above. No more than four members of the commission may be actively engaged in the teaching
