

Adelante Community Health Center does not own or have attributable interest in any radio station. Neither do any of its board members or officers have an attributable interest in a radio station. So it is obvious that it meets the diversity of ownership standard.