

Ownership Exhibit

During October 2021 certain investment funds under common management acquired shares amounting to more than five percent of the voting stock of Cumulus Media, Inc. ("Cumulus"), the publicly-traded ultimate parent company of the licensee herein. This acquisition, of which Cumulus had no control or prior knowledge, may have inadvertently and temporarily placed Cumulus in noncompliance with the Commission's local radio ownership rule due to attributable ownership interests held by the acquirer and/or its affiliates in iHeart Media Inc., which owns and operates radio stations in the same market as the station that is the subject of this renewal application.

Cumulus understands that the acquirer subsequently transferred a sufficient number of shares of Cumulus voting stock such that, as of the filing of this renewal application, it no longer holds an attributable interest in Cumulus. To the best of Cumulus's knowledge, the duration of any non-compliance caused by this stock acquisition was less than two weeks.
