

Nature of the Application

This application to modify the facilities authorized in Construction Permit File No. 0000188156 for K244DH is filed to correct an error made in the original underlying minor modification application, which was not detected until after CP File No. 0000188156 was granted. Specifically, the instant application corrects the tower site that the licensee intended to propose. (The original minor modification application erroneously specified a tower that is 805 feet from the intended tower specified here.) The tower proposed in the instant application is not registered in the ASR database because it does not meet the criteria for registration.
