KUVE-DT, Green Valley, AZ (the "Station") believes that it has generally met the requirement in Section 73.1943(c) of the FCC rules to post political orders to the online public inspection file "immediately, absent unusual circumstances." The Station is not aware of any political spot for which it did not post information to the public inspection file. In an abundance of caution, the Station reports the following:

TelevisaUnivision submits that these periods coincided with a significant surge in the COVID-19 Pandemic in Arizona following following the expiration of the Governor’s original stay at home order.¹

On June 1, 2020, the state reported a record high of 1,099 hospitalizations that were suspected to be COVID-19 related. Just a week later, there were over 27,000 cases and over 1,000 known deaths, and Dr. Cara Christ, the Arizona Department of Health Services director, warned hospitals to “fully activate” emergency plans. On June 29, Governor Ducey ordered bars, movie theaters, and gyms to close, in a partial reversal of the state's reopening. On June 30, 2020, Phoenix and 8 other cities in the metropolitan area announced the cancellation of their fireworks displays.

By July 3, 2020, over 90% of licensed intensive care unit hospital beds were unavailable in Arizona. On July 9, as the death toll reached 2,000 and the total number of cases passed 112,000, Governor Ducey issued an executive order directing restaurants to restrict dining capacity. On July 23, the governor issued an executive order extending the temporary closure of certain businesses and prohibiting organized gatherings of more than 50 people.

To be clear, TelevisaUnivision recognizes the importance of posting political information to the public file “immediately” absent unusual circumstances. With the benefit of experience in dealing with these unusual circumstances, Univision has worked with its employees involved in the political sales process to emphasize the need for timely posting of relevant documentation even in adverse circumstances such as this year’s events.
