Discontinued Operations

On January 18, 2020, KOLN's 1,500-foot tower near Beaver Crossing, Nebraska collapsed during an ice storm, requiring a complete rebuild the KOLN tower and technical facility. While KOLN was unable to broadcast an over the air signal while reconstructing its technical facility, it made efforts to restore service through fiber optic connections to MVPDs, carriage on a commonly owned low-power station, and carriage on the digital multicast channel of another station in the market. The Station was silent pursuant to Special Temporary Authority. (See Files Nos: 98771 ,117987). The Station was granted relief under section 312(g) to reinstate and extend its license despite being silent for longer than 1 year (See File Nos: 130167, 156268). The Station resumed operations with its rebuilt facility on November 18, 2021.
