Explanation re Children's Programming

RNN National, LLC ("RNN") requires its stations to comply with all FCC rules, including the rules on children's television programming. KCNS(TV)'s compliance with the FCC's children's television programming requirements is detailed in the quarterly and annual children's television programming reports that KCNS(TV) has filed with the FCC, all of which are incorporated by reference herein.

RNN notes that, on January 31, 2020, the station's ownership changed pursuant to an assignment of license application. See FCC File No. BALCDT- 20191206ACX. Because of the long-form ownership change, the current owners and licensee are not liable for violations of the prior licensee. However, RNN notes that, based on RNN's review, the prior licensee may not have properly reported the children's programming that aired on the station's main channel and digital subchannels in all instances. This misreporting may have resulted in a few instances of a shortfall in Core Programming prior to RNN taking ownership of the station. Since RNN acquired the station in 2020, KCNS(TV) has been compliant with the Commission's Children's Television Programming rules and Core Programming requirements.
