2022 Non-Regularly Scheduled Hours and Non-Core E/I Programming

Out of an abundance of caution, Fox Television Stations, LLC, licensee of WTTG, Washington, DC (Facility ID 22207) (Station) reports that due to World Cup scheduling, the Station had a de minimis one hour shortfall of its non-regularly scheduled programming on the main programming stream resulting in 51 of 52 hours broadcast with the core window. The Station broadcast an additional two hours of children's programming immediately adjacent to the core window. Specifically, four episodes of Sports Stars of Tomorrow were aired from 5:30 am to 6:00 am on the following dates: November 26, December 3, December 10, and December 17.
