ADDITIONAL MULTICAST CORE PROGRAMMING

The station aired a sufficient amount of core children's programming on its primary channel in 2022, and therefore is not relying on any core children's programming that was broadcast on its multicast streams in order to comply with the FCC's children's programming requirements. Nonetheless, the station notes that it voluntarily aired regularly scheduled weekly core children's programming on its multicast streams in 2022. Additional information about that programming is available to the extent necessary by contacting the Children's Television Programming Liaison contact.

For this station, the .2 is considered the primary stream.
