KJLU General Manager Mike Downey was fine with dismissing the pending KJLU application. He said they still intend to build the new tower and move KJLU to that location. The original environmental study was turned down by the Osage Tribe. They have had a lot of turnover that caused delays. The University does have a lot of grant money allocated for the project but they don't have a time frame. Dan Yeager is still working part time as their engineer. I will re-file the application when they get all their ducks in a row. It is possible that the site will change and they will need to do another environmental study with someone qualified to do the work. The person who did the work did it for free. Sometimes you get what you pay for! So please dismiss the pending minor mod application for KJLU Jefferson City, MO. Thanks Rudy!
