We sincerely desire to serve the people of Jonesboro with quality educational and instructional programming at all hours of the day and night. As our name implies, we are particularly concerned with the health and wellbeing of the community. Much of our airtime each day will be devoted to broadcasting programs dealing with the physical, mental, social and spiritual aspects of humans.

Our programming seeks to encouraging the building and maintenance of strong, stable families and the development of exemplary character in children.

Of supreme importance is to bring listeners closer to the Creator God. Bible teaching and instruction will have a prominent place in our daily program schedule.

Some programs will deal with general educational topics such as science, civics, history and general culture, including music.

News and weather bulletins may also be broadcast, as well as topics of local community interest.

We are not an entertainment station, but truly a source of light, truth and inspiration for our city.
