

Educational Objective:

Islamorada Outreach Society is a not for profit corporation organized to meet the educational needs of local communities and specifically aimed to be a conduit of local information and community involvement. Additionally, they seek to assist members of the community, students and young adults in becoming interested in the field of broadcasting.

The mission of Islamorada Outreach Society is to creatively use the latest broadcasting technology to provide local radio service to a community and to teach broadcasting skills and to enhance the career prospects of students and young adults seeking careers in broadcasting and mass communication.