

Fox Cities Community Progress Inc. has a mission to contribute important, local program materials for non-profit groups in the Appleton area. Our members have either grown up in Appleton or in some cases have had generations of family having grown up in this very area. So this mission is very personal to all of us. Our goal is to be inclusive of the needs of the multiplicity of cultures and diverse backgrounds that have become a thriving Appleton community, and to help broadcast public announcements and programs to keep the lines of communication open throughout our listening area. This will include actual conversations with citizens of Appleton face-to-face, charities and get-together occasions, respect-based news and public events coverage, environmental news and events including but not limited to forest conservation and environment, global climate and more. Fox Cities Community Progress knows that our city's greatest wealth lies in its families; again of various cultures and backgrounds whose voices will be heard on our broadcasts. In the past, our members have been involved with charity fund raisers for accident and cancer victims, forest conservation, City and County government in - order to better inform our citizens of changes and decisions effecting them. As one of our members has extensive background working with the Red Cross and FEMA through the years, we have a particular edge when it comes to efficient coverage during storms, floods, wind or other disasters. When tuned to the station we operate in Appleton, listeners will have a unique feeling of a community knowledge and caring, and will likely find it a go-to radio station for many positive reasons.
