In re: WQMS(AM), Quitman, MS
Facility ID No. 54325
Renewal Application File No. 0000105232

Dear Licensee:

We have before us your application (Application) for renewal of the license for AM Station WQMS(AM), Quitman, Mississippi (Station).¹ For the reasons set forth below, we grant the Application for a renewal period of one year from the date of this letter, instead of a full term of eight years, pursuant to section 309(k)(2) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (Act).² The Station's term will expire on April 11, 2025 and a renewal application will be due on or before December 1, 2024.³

Background. The Application was filed on January 29, 2020. Based on our review of the Application and related Commission records, we find that the Station was silent for approximately 50% of the time since its license term started on June 1, 2012. In the Application, Licensee stated that it was silent for 6 periods of almost twelve months each between October 21, 2013 and July 11, 2019.⁴ Our records show that Licensee filed requests for Special Temporary Authority to remain silent for extended periods during the license term.⁵ Since June 1, 2020, the Station has operated pursuant to Section

Mar. 23, 2020); BLESTA-20200427AIN (gr. June 4, 2020, exp. July 17, 2020). We have no record of Station silence from September 2015 through September 2016 and from September 2016 through July 2017.

307(c)(3) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, with periods of silence. However, all of that operation has been done by using a long wire antenna at an alternate site pursuant to technical STAs.⁶

Discussion. Silence instead of operation in accordance with a station's FCC authorization is a fundamental failure to serve a broadcast station's community of license, because a silent station offers that community no public service programming such as news, public affairs, weather information, and Emergency Alert System notifications. Moreover, brief periods of station operation sandwiched between prolonged periods of silence are of little value because the local audience is not accustomed to tuning into the station's frequency.⁷

The basic duty of broadcast licensees to serve their communities is reflected in section 309(k) of the Act.⁸ That section provides that if, upon consideration of a station's license renewal application and related pleadings, we find that (1) the station has served the public interest, convenience, and necessity; (2) there have been no serious violations of the Act or the rules; and (3) there have been no other violations which, taken together, constitute a pattern of abuse, we are to grant the renewal application.⁹ If, however, the licensee fails to meet that standard, the Commission may deny the application – after notice and opportunity for a hearing under section 309(e) of the Act – or grant the application “on terms and conditions that are appropriate, including a renewal for a term less than the maximum otherwise permitted.”¹⁰

In 2001, the Commission cautioned “all licensees that . . . a licensee will face a very heavy burden in demonstrating that it has served the public interest where it has remained silent for most or all of the prior license term.”¹¹ It also acknowledged the agency's longstanding policy to encourage stations to resume broadcast operations when license renewal applications were pending. However, the Commission noted that section 309(k)(1) applies a “backwards-looking standard” that does not give any weight to efforts to return a station to full-time operation in the future.¹² The Commission held that denial of the renewal application of the station in question in Birach would be fundamentally unfair because the Commission had not provided sufficient notice of the effect the section 309(k)(1) standard would have on silent stations.¹³ Since the issuance of the Birach decision in 2001, licensees have been on notice as to how section 309(k)(1) applies to silent stations.

⁹ 47 U.S.C. § 309(k)(1). The renewal standard was amended to read as described by section 204(a) of the Telecommunications Act of 1996, Pub. L. No. 104-104, 110 Stat. 56 (1996). See Implementation of sections 204(a) and 204(c) of the Telecomm. Act of 1996, Order, 11 FCC Rcd 6363 (1996).

In this case, Licensee's conduct has fallen short of that which would warrant routine license renewal. Licensee's stewardship of the Station failed to meet the public service commitment which licensees are expected to provide to their communities of license on a daily basis because the Station was silent for a significant portion of the license term.¹⁴

On the facts presented here, we conclude that a short-term license renewal for the Station is the appropriate sanction. Although the Station sought Commission authorization for the periods of silence, it was silent for a significant portion of the time since its license was renewed in 2012. We therefore cannot find that the Station served the public interest, convenience and necessity during the license term due to the extended periods of non-operation with and without authority. Accordingly, pursuant to section 309(k)(2) of the Act, we will grant the Station a short-term license renewal, limited to a period of one year from the date of this letter.¹⁵ This limited renewal period will afford the Commission an opportunity to review the Station's public service performance, as well as compliance with the Act and the FCC's rules, and to take whatever corrective actions, if any, that may be warranted at that time.

Conclusion. Accordingly, for the reasons set forth above, IT IS ORDERED THAT the license renewal application (Application File No. 0000105232) filed by Matadors, LLC for Radio Station WQMS(AM), Quitman, Mississippi IS GRANTED pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 309(k)(2), for a license term of one year from the date of this letter. (Note: the date set in this letter for the new license term supersedes any notice generated from the FCC Licensing and Management System (LMS).)
