

The licensee requests an STA to return to the air until it can construct the facilities in its construction permit.