Artists' Open Studio (AOS) provides adults with disabilities in and around Huron County, Ohio with an inclusive and accessible art studio so they can express themselves through various art mediums and generate an income through art sales and other work opportunities.

AOS serves over forty adult artists with disabilities. Historically, there is a steady wait list of artists who are eager to participate.

The proposed radio station's programming will be an extension of our original mission by providing an outlet for audio forms of artistic expression and the learning of new artistic forms. AOS is already known for ceramics and painting departments. Now this radio station will open up a space for adults with disabilities to explore avenues of music as well.

Our educational programming will include:

- music student's open live recitals
- open mic live stage nights (Tuesdays)
- Live broadcasts from the Waterbottom Stage in Norwalk Ohio (Fridays/Saturdays)
- AOS artists music performances
- local musician interviews & original music recordings (Tuesday/Thursdays)
- lists of live music event schedules in the area
- Arts calendar, art events, & local art information
- locally performed radio dramas
- educational art & music discussions (Mondays)
- Original local music playlists hosted by Great Grandpa Beebe (daily)
