

Antenna Support Structure - Response to d(1) and d(2)

The antenna support structure was re-built in 2015, per the applicable engineering codes of Minnesota. The tower has been periodically maintained, as required, but no structural analysis has been performed after the construction.