

Request for Extension of Legal STA

TVC NY License, LLC (“TVC”), the licensee of Digital Low Power Television Station WNYN-LD, New York, New York (the “Station”), hereby respectfully requests Commission approval to continue to operate under its existing special temporary authority (“STA”) for six additional months – until May 6, 2016.

Following damage to the Station’s transmitter by an electrical storm, TVC determined that it required the STA to continue to operate the Station at reduced power, with its most recent extension granted on April 27, 2015. See, e.g., FCC File No. BELSTA-20150423AAH. At that time, and as noted in that prior filing, TVC had commenced business negotiations relating to the implementation of a granted construction permit for the Station. See FCC File No. BPDTL-20141202AAH (the “Permit”). TVC is pleased to report that it has made substantial progress on these negotiations, and consequently has begun the process to obtain the necessary local permits to construct under an improved facility consistent with the Permit. At this time, and subject to other appropriate approvals, TVC hopes to begin construction pursuant to the Permit within the next ninety (90) days. However, in order to continue to provide the Station’s broadcast service during such construction, TVC hereby requests an extension of the STA.
