RE: CALM Act Compliance

The Commercial Advertising Loudness Mitigation Act became enforceable by the Federal Communications Commission. This law requires networks to normalize commercial advertising to the same loudness as programs.

This letter serves to satisfy that the Justice Network, LLC is CALM Act compliant with the applicable Federal Communications Commission requirements effective January 20, 2015. The Justice Network signal is sent through Encompass Digital Media which has installed, and is operating, Miranda model EAP-3901 audio processing equipment as a part of the signal path of the Justice Network. Encompass's use of the aforementioned equipment is meant to provide loudness control for all commercial advertisements included in the Justice Network program feed.

Notification will be sent if and when this practice changes, as required. I hereby certify that the foregoing is true and accurate. Executed on January 20, 2015.
