Construction Permit Certifications

A commission grant of this application would not be an action which would have a significant environmental effect for the following reasons:

1. The applicant does not intend to erect another tower at the site or place another building. The antenna and equipment will be housed on or in existing structures.
2. The effective radiated power is only 12 watts from an antenna 45 meters above ground level so there is no danger of harmful radiation.
3. The application is only for the purpose of changing to a lower channel in accordance with FCC requirements.
