

Discrimination Complaint

The Board of Regents, University of Wisconsin System (“UW”), reports that an allegation of discrimination was filed with the University of Wisconsin-Madison’s Office of Compliance on July 9, 2020, by a full-time employee of Wisconsin Public Radio, a division of the University of Wisconsin-Madison. The complainant alleges that a pattern of discriminatory actions created a hostile work environment. Wisconsin Public Radio has not yet had an opportunity to respond to the complaint. Although it is not clear that internal complaints such as this must be disclosed on Form 396, UW is nevertheless disclosing the filing of this internal complaint in connection with the Forms 396 filed by each Wisconsin Public Radio affiliate for which it is the licensee out of an abundance of caution.
