Sam,

I picked a cloudy snowy day to look at that tower on Fredericksburg . The space below the dish on top of the left leg should give you the azimuth your looking for. Or a face mount would work also .

The tower is a 140' HD MW Rohn so loading is not an issue . The dish is below the top and you would be good at 130' or below .The dish at the top is directed towards Round Knob in Cassville/ Todd Twp area of Huntingdon. The Face in the picture is looking towards the area you want to cover .
