

Diligent Efforts

We had originally planned on purchasing an Anywave transmitter, however, due to Covid; we were unable to get it in time. We purchased and have in possession a Technalogix 100 Watt digital transmitter. The antenna and line are already on the tower from our analog operation. All we need is the thumbs up from the FCC and we will finish installation and begin digital operation.