EEO PROGRAM REPORT

Narrative Statement

This Employment Unit (EU) broadly disseminates information about job opportunities at the stations. Also, the staff is engaged in the community through speaking engagements at area events (such as job fairs, fundraising, etc.) and at area educational institutions.

The EU provides training opportunities to its personnel and management, including mentoring programs for future and new managers. These stations also participate in TEGNA's Producer-In-Residence program which was established to provide training and a two-year placement as a producer at a station to obtain real world experience for college graduates.
