

Holding Period Exhibit

In the legal certification section, the correct answer to the first question in the Holding Period section is correctly answered YES (the application does modify a CP issued on a points analysis in the NCE window). The following question confirms that the application does NOT propose a downgrade. The filing system, however, then popped up an inapplicable question (re downgrading). At the recommendation of the FCC staff, the form is submitted with a response to the third question in the section in the negative with this exhibit as explanation.
