

Educational Goals and Corresponding Radio Programming

The Three Angels Project is dedicated to its mission of providing essential educational information to Elkton, VA, and the surrounding areas.

Our goal is to empower individuals with knowledge that spans a wide range of subjects, from health and wellness to family life, mental health and Biblical knowledge ensuring that our community is well-informed and equipped for success.

We believe that by offering accessible, high-quality educational resources, we can contribute to the growth and prosperity of Elkton and its neighboring regions.

Through collaborative efforts and community engagement, the Three Angels Project strives to be a beacon of enlightenment, fostering a brighter future for all who call this beautiful part of Virginia their home.

Radio programming of the proposed station will be rich in educational and instructional topics such as community and personal health, family and couple building with particular attention given to character building programs targeted to children, general education in the fields of history, civics, science and the arts, and notably Bible instruction as it applies to our world today.

News, weather and community events may also be included.
